Indifference To Air Piracy
We take some comfort from the fact that seven out of the last eight airplane hijackers have failed. They have ended up either dead or in jail.

But we are appalled to learn that the jet liner hijacker who was killed by an FBI sharpshooter had been allowed to board the aircraft after electronic detection devices indicated that he was probably carrying a weapon.

Had the TWA officials involved taken him aside to the federal marshal on duty and required identification and a search, the whole tragic and dangerous incident might well have been avoided.

But as Federal Aviation Administrator John H. Shaffer observed, "The follow-through by the airline just wasn't there." He called it an example of airline "indifference" about air piracy. And said that airlines found it "easier to just let it happen."

To us such "indifference" on the part of airline officials teeters on the brink of criminal negligence. One man died and the lives of dozens of other persons were put in terrible peril because of sloppy procedure and a want of common sense. — Atlanta (Ga.) Constitution

Mechanical Talk
There's no telling where the trend to talking gadgets will lead. A company has developed a clock radio which, when the top is touched, announces the time. An electronics firm is making a small cigarette case that says when opened: "I am not quitting cigarettes. But I will wait one hour." Next time you know some genius will invent a bottleholder for gin or other alcoholic beverages which records each drink poured and after a while will say: "That's enough for tonight." A horrible thought. — Charleston (S.C.) News and Courier

100 Killed in Soviet Plane Crash

MOSCOW (AP) — A Soviet airliner crashed while landing at Irkutsk airport in Siberia last week, and an estimated 100 persons were killed, travelers reported today.

The plane belonged to Aeroflot, the Soviet government airline, they said, and was believed to have been on a domestic transiberian flight.

The travelers said they learned that the craft "came down heavily and flipped over as it was landing."

"We have no information on this," said the Soviet Aviation Ministry. That is its usual comment in such cases.

The travelers said they did not know what kind of plane it was.

The last officially acknowledged Soviet air crash occurred at Moscow's Sheremetyevo airport in August 1969 when 16 summer vacationers were killed.

Allocations Approved for State

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Department of Health, Education and Welfare has approved allocations totaling $2,175,990 to 23 institutions of higher learning in Arkansas to aid 7,050 students through the National Defense Student Loan Program.

The office of Rep. John Paul Hammerschmidt, R-Ark., made the announcement Tuesday.

The funds include $166,500 to Arkansas AM&N, $205,939 to the University of Arkansas at Monticello, $119,700 to Arkansas Tech, $155,700 to Henderson State College, $117,630 to Philander Smith College, $192,555 to State College of Arkansas and $312,750 to the University of Arkansas at Fayetteville.

South Wins Long Freight Rate Fight

WASHINGTON (AP) — Southern railroads have won a 20-year dispute with announcement by the Interstate Commerce Commission that it will drop a court battle over freight rates.

The ICC had sought to give non-Southern railroads an increased share of rates on freight shipments between their areas and the South.

But an ICC attorney said Tuesday the commission agrees "at present" that Eastern and Western railroads have failed to make a case.

In Atlanta, Georgia Gov. Jimmy Carter said the decision will save Southern shippers $10 million per year.

Just before the Korean War, Georgia and railroad officials sought successfully to have a traditional freight setup changed increasing rates for the South. In 1965, however, the ICC returned the rate structure to the old system, favoring non-Southern lines.

Southern opposition to the new rules culminated in formation of the Southern Governors Conference, which successfully fought the rates in a lower court.

Rain Helpful But Crops Need Sun

Even though the rain was more than welcome last week in Southwest Arkansas, it did cause some flooding. Pastures have responded well to the moisture. In a series of special crop reports by Agricultural Extension Service agents in the area, the following observations were made:

Little River County had six confirmed cases of screwworms and stockmen were still keeping a wary eye out for the critters. Cotton insects are building up but clear weather was needed to start control measures.

Livestock in Howard County are improving as their pastures improve. The peach harvest should be complete this week. Moisture greatly improved cotton crop prospects.

Weevils and worms were also building up in Miller County with the excessive rain creating damage. Some soybeans were damaged by flooding.

The horse vaccination in Hempstead County for VEE was nearly complete. Soybeans have made good growth but need sunshine for a change.

Cloudy weather and rain reduced cotton fruiting in Lafayette County and caused excessive vegetative growth. The harvest of sorghums will begin as soon as the fields dry out.

Field and garden crops were growing real well in Polk County with prospects excellent for a late vegetable crop.

Ellsberg's Appeal Denied

BOSTON (AP) — An appeals court has ordered Dr. Daniel Ellsberg to go to California to face charges of illegal possession of secret government documents, specifically the Pentagon papers.

Judge Frank M. Coffin of the 1st U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals denied Tuesday an appeal by Ellsberg and said he must face arraignment in California Aug. 16.

Ellsberg, 40, work on the Pentagon papers while with the Rand Corp., a "think-tank" operation at Santa Monica, Calif., which does sensitive policy research for the government.

Desegregation in Full Cycle in South and Resegregation Begins

By JOHN BECKLER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A little-noted ruling by a federal court in Atlanta indicates that because of housing patterns the long effort to desegregate Southern schools has come full circle and is leading to resegregation.

In rejecting massive busing as a means of further integrating Atlanta's schools, the court said the city is on the brink of becoming all-black and would be pushed over the brink if busing were ordered.

Holding there now is no difference between the segregation remaining in Atlanta and that in large Northern cities, the court dismissed the case, which has been fought for 13 years.

"On the facts alone," wrote U.S. Dist. Court Judges Sidney O. Smith Jr. and Albert J. Henderson Jr., "the court concludes that wholesale busing is neither reasonable, feasible nor workable."

The July 28 ruling has been appealed by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The Atlanta decision was brought to the attention of Congress last week by Rep. Roman C. Pucinski, D-Ill., a foe of bus-

Progress in Talks on Berlin

By GENE KRAMER

BERLIN (AP) — For the first time in 17 months of negotiations on the future of Berlin, the Big Four ambassadors met today for a second consecutive day. And another session is scheduled Thursday.

It was the 28th meeting of the ambassadors of the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain and France since they began negotiations in March 1970. Sources in Bonn said the unusual burst of activity was an attempt to make decisive progress toward new arrangements for the divided city. But the Soviet demands may still be too high for the other wartime allies.

Western officials indicated the meeting Thursday will be followed by a pause during which some of the ambassadors will take vacations and the is-

Mechanical Heart Device Implanted

By GENE SCHROEDER
Associated Press Writer
DETROIT (AP) — A team of surgeons at Mt. Sinai Hospital today implanted a partially mechanical heart device in a 63-year-old man.

The patient receiving the "patch booster," a permanent device made of silicone rubber and dacron, was identified as Haskell Shanks of suburban Warren, Mich.

A spokesman for the hospital said the mechanical heart surgery began at 7:15 p.m. EST Tuesday and was completed about 5 a.m. He said the surgery was successful, and the patient was doing well.

The new device is designed to give permanent help for a failing heart, the spokesman said.

The surgical team was headed by Dr. Adrian Kantrowitz, the developer of the artificial Pacemaker, a device which keeps the heart beating regularly. He performed the world's second heart transplant and the first in the United States, Dec. 6, 1967, at Maimonides Medical Center in Brooklyn.

The hospital said the booster pump implanted in the patient is air-powered and can be used as long as needed. The device is a newer version of an earlier mechanical device used in two other operations. It is smaller in size and simpler in design, the hospital said.

6 Killed as Terrace Collapses

MALAGA, Spain (AP) — A terrace under construction at a hotel on the south coast of Spain collapsed into the bar and lobby today, and police reported six persons killed and several others injured.

The terrace, on which a tennis court was being constructed, gave way at the 354-room Hotel Riviera, built in 1964 at Benalmadena-Costa, 12 miles from Malaga.

A government spokesman said none of the casualties had been identified, but the hotel is popular with foreigners.

The cause of the collapse was not immediately known. But the area has had torrential rains in the past few days.

British Troops Kill 2 More as Death Toll in Ireland War Hits 20

By COLIN FROST
Associated Press Writer
BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — British troops shot and killed two more gunmen in Belfast early today, raising death toll to 20 in the guerrilla warfare that has raged in Northern Ireland since early Monday.

More than 100 other persons have been wounded in gun-fights, bombings and burnings triggered by the roundup Monday of more than 300 suspected members of the outlawed Irish Republican Army. Forty-eight persons have been slain in the communal warfare this year.

The British government announced in London that it was dispatching 550 more troops to reinforce the 12,000 soldiers hard pressed by the worst bloodshed since Ulster's six Protestant counties were separated from the rest of Ireland, half a century ago.

Gunmen believed to be from the IRA fired on troops and police. Mobs of Protestants and Catholics battled each other. Rival factions of the IRA clashed. And troops and police fought all of them in attempts to restore order.

The soldiers sealed off the Falls Road, Ballymurphy, Ardoyne and Old Park Road areas of Belfast as those Catholic districts crackedle to the sound of gunfire under the flickering light of burning buildings.

The two gunmen were shot when they opened fire on army patrols, military headquarters said. Three men were captured in the fight just before dawn. A few hours later troops moved into the area to flush out snipers and arrested 35 persons for questioning.

More than 100 shots were fired in Leeson Street off Falls Road in what appeared to be a battle between rival IRA factions.

Parking Problem Discussed

Harold Stephens, of Stephens Wholesale Grocer Company, met with the City Officials at their regular meeting last night for a discussion of parking problems in front of the grocer company's warehouse on Laurel Street. This business has grown to where the loading and unloading operations at their dock creates a problem for the large concentration of traffic around the postoffice.

Mr. Stephens explained that in his new construction, provision had been made for unloading most all of the long trucks from the alley alongside the new warehouse, but that when the railroad siding was in use there were times when they would handle some of the long trucks at the front loading dock. He said that their building plans include cutting a deep unloading dock into the building on the east side, but that these plans might not be completed for several years. In the meantime, he said they were trying to do everything to keep Laurel Street open to traffic.

Chile Phases Out All U.S. Aid Programs

By GEORGE GEDDA
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Chile has quietly been phased out of the United States foreign-assistance program after receiving more per capita over the past decade than any other South American nation.

However, State Department sources say Chile's exclusion is attributable to economic considerations—not to emergence of a socialist government in Chile headed by Marxist President Salvador Allende.

They say Chile's balance-of-payments situation does not require any development loans, adding that no loan applications have been received from the nine-month-old Allende government.

The Chilean embassy did not comment on the aid phaseout.

The Agency for International Development (AID) has placed heavy emphasis in recent years on the so-called balance-of-payments loans, aimed at liberalizing money and credit policies to stimulate employment, output and investment.

Chile's exclusion from the development-loan program is disclosed in an AID report on projected outlays for Latin American for fiscal 1972.

Chile is omitted from the list of 15 Latin American countries for which $310 million is earmarked for development loans during the year.

The exclusion contrasts sharply with preferential treatment the United States showed previous Chilean governments, particularly that of Allende's predecessor, Eduardo Frei.

Between 1961 and 1970, Chile received $461.8 million in development loans or about $50 for each Chilean, the highest per-capita figure for any South American nation.

The highest gross sum, $1.1 billion, was allocated to Brazil.

The only other major countries omitted from the fiscal 1972 list are Venezuela, Argentina and Mexico, which have not received U.S. loans for years because of their relatively advanced development levels.

Blood Helps 3 Ways

"Your blood helps 3 ways when you give," says Bloodmobile Chairman Haskell Jones. First, it assures that the people of Hempstead County will have blood when needed. Secondly, it affords a supply of Red Cross Blood to you and your family when you or a member of your family were to require it outside the county. The third way it helps is to provide blood for the veterans hospitals where 20 percent of all Red Cross Blood goes.

Your blood then may go to a veteran, a stranger, a friend, a member of your family, or it might even come back to you at a time when you really need it.

The Bloodmobile will come to Hope Monday, August 16, 12 noon to 6:00 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church. Use the Walnut Street parking lot.

Patmos Elementary School will begin Thursday, August 26, at 8:30 a.m. according to Gene Jester, principal. Parents of first grade children are reminded to bring birth certificates and health records.

Enemy Force Kills 13 in Surprise Raid

SAIGON (AP) — A Communist force surprised a company of South Vietnamese rangers during the night in the Mekong Delta, killing 13 and wounding 10, military sources reported today.

The 100-150 rangers were camped for the night 45 miles southwest of Saigon, and the enemy troops hit them before dawn Tuesday with grenades and machine-gun fire, then withdrew under fire from helicopter gunships and artillery.

The Saigon command said five enemy soldiers were killed and two were captured. Ranger reinforcements pursued the enemy force and made sporadic contacts later in the day two to four miles from the camp. Eight more of the enemy were reported killed and five prisoners were reported taken. Sources said one more ranger was wounded.

Eleven more Viet Cong were reported killed in the delta during a sweep by 1,000 South Vietnamese soldiers 120 miles southwest of Saigon. Two South Vietnamese soldiers were reported killed and nine wounded. The drive was launched Tuesday after Viet Cong "tax collectors" invaded the village of Long Tanh demanding money.

At the northern end of the country along the demilitarized zone, South Vietnamese infantrymen clashed with North Vietnamese troops near Fire Base Fuller and reported killing three enemy. South Vietnamese losses were put at one killed and eight wounded.

Nixon Warns Agency Heads on Busing

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL, Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House said today that President Nixon has directed federal agencies within the last month to seek school desegregation without busing and indicated that heads will fall if his desires are ignored.

Press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler told reporters that in the past there have been times when members of the federal bureaucracy have not been responsive to White House views. "They are going to be responsive," he said, "and those who are not responsive will find themselves involved in other assignments or quite possibly in assignments other than the federal government."

Nixon has insisted that school desegregation be carried out wherever possible without busing youngsters for long distances from their homes. The Supreme Court, however, has ruled that busing is legal.

The whole subject came up when the press secretary was asked about a statement by Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama that the President should support his stand against busing by asking federal courts to reverse themselves and hold it unconstitutional.

The governor, who asked for an early reply to his telegram on the subject, said that Nixon should order Atty. Gen. John Mitchell and Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Elliot Richardson to go back to the courts and ask that decrees calling for busing be set aside, since they were instrumental in getting them.

Ziegler said he was unaware whether the telegram had been received and gave no indication when or whether there might be an answer.

Approval of the Land Development Code and Comprehensive Planning study was delayed for further review. The Planning Study was completed by Tom Hodges of Urban Planning Associates and presented at a Public Hearing held on July 27. The Board of Directors deferred action on approval for further study of subdivision regulation that are included in the plan. They decided to postpone action until they could make a further study of these regulations and action was postponed until they could thoroughly review these provisions.

In other action the Directors reviewed a request that charges for sewer connection and health program be suspended to locations where the services were not needed. They denied the request because the rate ordinance provides that minimum charges of the health program and sewer service be made to any occupied premise, whether residential or commercial.

The Board, by resolution, created a loading zone to provide loading and unloading to a warehouse building on South Walnut Street.

Want Legal Abortions Nationwide

WASHINGTON (AP) — Seven women's groups and several well-known women have asked the Supreme Court to protect "the right of reproductive autonomy" by permitting medical abortions everywhere in the United States.

In a friend-of-court brief in cases from Georgia and Texas, the organizations and 47 women, including anthropologist Margaret Mead, said they were not advocating abortion as a necessarily desirable solution to personal or social problems. "We do contend, however," they said through an attorney, "that each woman has the right to make the decision for herself, unimpeded by restrictive laws" except for those regulating the practice of medicine.

Later this year the court will hear arguments on the Georgia and Texas cases whose central issue is whether states may continue to say which abortions are legal and which are not. Before that, however, the court must decide if it has jurisdiction to rule.

Organizations filing the brief were the American Association of University Women, the National Board of the Young Women's Christian Association of the United States, the National Organization for Women, the National Women's Conference of the American Ethical Union, the Professional Women's Caucus, the Unitarian Universalist Women's Federation and the Women's Alliance of the First Unitarian Church of Dallas. These have millions of women as members with more than 2½ million in the YMCA alone.

The individuals include Miss Mead, Marian B. Javits, wife of the New York senator, Mary H. Lindsay, wife of the New York City mayor, former Sen. Maureen B. Neuberger of Oregon, former Barnard College President Millicent C. McIntosh, columnist Harriet Van Horne and Bess Myerson, a former Miss America who is consumer affairs commissioner of New York City.

They said through lawyer Norman G. Zarky of Los Angeles that "the right of reproductive autonomy—the right to decide when and where to have children—is at least equal to and in most instances even more deserving of recognition" than various civil rights already protected by the court including racial intermarriage and the right of a poor person to sue for divorce.

The brief said fundamental rights of women are in conflict with the laws of nearly all states.

Opening Ceremony at Texarkana

LITTLE ROCK (8-9) - Formal ceremonies to officially open another section of Highway 245 (the Circumferential Route) on the east side of Texarkana will be held at 11:00 a.m. on Thursday, August 12.

The four-lane divided highway between I-30 and U.S. 67 was constructed at a total cost of $1,111,975. The 1.6-mile urban connection has partially controlled access for increased safety and was financed with 50 percent federal matching funds.

The section being opened is the second phase of a major arterial loop planned along the eastern and southern boundaries of Texarkana, Arkansas. The first section (from Tennessee Street to U.S. 82), one mile, was completed and opened to traffic in July of 1969.

Major Jack Trigg will be the master of ceremonies. The ribbon will be cut by Miss Texarkana, Kathy Cox. The event will be held on the southside of the I-30-Highway 245 interchange.

At noon the Highway Committee of the Texarkana Chamber of Commerce will host a luncheon for highway officials at Holiday Inn on I-30.

According to Highway Director Ward Goodman, the Circumferential Route will greatly expedite traffic to the airport and industrial area, and will greatly relieve downtown traffic congestion.

The road was built by Reynolds & Williams, Inc. of Little Rock. Dist. Engr. John Tullant of Hope and Res. Engr. Charles Mauk of Texarkana supervised the construction for the Highway Department.

sues in dispute will be referred back to legal and technical experts or to Washington, Moscow, Paris and London.

Soviet Ambassador Pyotr Abrassimov said, "two big steps" were taken at the meeting Tuesday, but neither he nor his aides would identify the steps. A Soviet spokesman said he was referring to all issues and to the narrowing of the gap between the West and Moscow.

Western officials said the "two big steps" statement was purely a Soviet concept and they did not know what was meant. During the day Abrassimov also met with the chief of the East German Communist party, Erich Honecker, whose regime will be asked to abide by new Soviet guarantees of unimpeded traffic between West Berlin and West Germany.

But a British official indicated there is no agreement on the concessions the Russians are demanding in exchange for their guarantee of unimpeded access to West Berlin. They include:

1. Reducing the political ties between West Berlin and West Germany, which heavily subsidizes the isolated city, and restricting trips of West German politicians to Berlin.
2. Opening a Soviet consulate in West Berlin, which the West fears will be used to soften up West Berlin for eventual absorption into East Germany.
3. Continued discrimination between West Berliners and West Germans in regard to travel and passports. West Berliners are not allowed to travel to East Berlin nor to use their West German passports to enter Communist countries. West Germans are not so restricted.
4. An end to the West German governments representing West Berlin in foreign affairs.

Corona Has Heart Attack

YUBA CITY, Calif. (AP) — Juan Corona, the farm labor contractor accused of hacking 25 men to death and burying them in orchards, apparently has suffered a second heart attack.

Convicts on Drugs Riot in Idaho

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — Authorities say about 50 convicts were high on drugs during rioting at the Idaho Penitentiary in which two inmates were stabbed and two buildings were burned.

Guards fired tear gas as about 150 of the prison's 245 inmates, some armed with knives or baseball bats, rioted Tuesday night. The convicts demanded more frequent changes of clothing because temperatures range as high as 118 degrees in the 100-year-old institution.

Warden Raymond W. May, who made the estimate that about 50 inmates were high on drugs, brought the situation under control by telling the prisoners that none would be punished for the uprising and that their demand probably would be met.

During a lull in the riot, Warden May and Ada County Sheriff Paul Bright argued heatedly before newsmen. Bright accused May of being too lenient.

May met with a six-member inmate council and said the main prisoner grievance was over a rule allowing changes of clothing only every three days despite the 100-degree heat.

A medical attendant, David Bortz, 25, of Burley, Idaho, was stabbed in the chest by inmates who broke into the hospital in search of drugs, prison officials said. Bortz was serving a two-year sentence for passing bad checks.

Charles Rice, 30, of Evans City, Pa., serving 10 years for lewd conduct, also was stabbed in the chest.

A third inmate, Charles Sharp, suffered eye injuries from tear gas fired by guards.

There were no escape attempts and no hostages were taken. The prison softball team returned from a tournament in the middle of the riot and was taken to another jail for the night.

Many inmates were in the courtyard when the riot began at 7:30 p.m. The maximum security section has been vacant since prison officials discovered a tunnel there Sunday.

A social service center and a building housing a recreation area, shoe repair shop and laundry facilities were in flames when May and an aide walked into the middle of 150 shouting inmates.

May, who agreed to stop the issue of tear gas and remove guards from sight if the inmates would quiet down, said he saw at least six inmates with knives taken from the kitchen.

Mayor Lindsey Switches to Democrats

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor John V. Lindsay switched to the Democratic party today "to fight for new national leadership." But he said he did not know if he will seek the Democratic presidential nomination next year.

"In a sense, this step recognizes the failure of 20 active years in progressive Republican politics," the mayor said in a statement.

"In another sense, it represents a new decision to fight for new national leadership," he added.

Bill Cosby Buys Estate in Mass.

The home is approximately 20 miles from Amherst where Cosby plans to enter the University of Massachusetts School of Education this fall.

Cosby, 34, originally said he planned to give up show business for a teaching career, but later said he will do some television specials and other projects.

WCS Circle Meets

"In the Work-a-Day World" was the timely program Mrs. Charles Burch presented at a meeting of Circle 5, WCS, on Monday, August 9 in the home of Mrs. Kinard Young with Mrs. Lee Still, co-hostess. Besides using printed material, the program chairman also based her talk on interviews with the director of the local Farm Labor Information Center near Hope, L.B. Cook, and his assistant, Harold Hensz.

It was learned that the Arkansas Employment Security Division operates the migrant labor center with government funds, and only one other such establishment in the United States has sleeping accommodations for the workers and their families. Several groups lend assistance whenever possible, including the Hope Ministerial Alliance, and most of the migrant workers using the facilities are Mexican.

Preceding the program a business meeting was held under the direction of Circle Chairman Mary Anita Laseter. The circle members filled out yearbooks for the next 4 months, discussed a project by the women in the church to raise money for the new sanctuary, and made plans to visit the shut-in and sick members of the church. Mrs. Matt McCauley and Mrs. Lee Still made reports that aided in these discussions.

During the refreshment hour, cake, nuts and coffee were served.

Russian Author in Siberia

MOSCOW (AP) — Reliable sources say Anatoly Marchenko, author of an autobiographical novel about Soviet labor camps, has gone to Chunya in western Siberia after being released from a three-year confinement.

The sources said Monday that Marchenko is expected to live in Chunya at least six months until he receives police permission to leave the area.

Marchenko became known in the West with the publication in 1969 of a novel called "My Testimony," based on experiences in prison camps that began with his sentence about 10 years ago, after a brawl in a workers' hostel in Siberia.

In the book, he describes the camps as "just as horrible as in the time of Stalin."

He was sentenced to a one-year term in 1968 for being in Moscow without a permit, and to a two-year term in 1969 on a charge believed to be under a section of the Russian criminal code dealing with anti-Soviet defamation and slander.

Giants Have 1-0 Edge Over Expos

By BERT ROSENTHAL

Associated Press Sports Writer

Juan Marichal and Juan Pizarro ... the wonderful Juans. At least they were both wonderful Tuesday night, Marichal pitching a brilliant no-hitter as the San Francisco Giants edged the Montreal Expos 1-0 and Pizarro spacing five hits as the Chicago Cubs defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates 2-1.

In other National League games, Los Angeles downed Philadelphia 6-1; Atlanta topped St. Louis 2-1; Houston nipped Cincinnati 3-2, and New York trimmed San Diego 6-4.

In the American League, Oakland swept a day-night doubleheader from Boston 6-5 and 7-5; Kansas City took a two-night twinbill from Washington 9-2 and 3-1; Baltimore shaded Minnesota 4-3 in 10 innings; California beat New York 7-6; Detroit routed Milwaukee 12-3, and Cleveland stopped Chicago 4-1.

Marichal, the enigmatic veteran Giants' right-hander, had started the season with the best winning percentage, .671 among active pitchers, with 203 victories and only 98 losses. He also led active pitchers in shutouts with 46 and was third on the all-time earned run average list with a 2.68 mark, behind only Walter Johnson's 2.37 and Grover Cleveland Alexander's 2.56.

This was despite the worst season of his 11-year San Francisco career, when he won only 12 and lost 10 in 1970 and his ERA soared to 4.11.

This season, Marichal appeared to have overcome the illness that plagued him last year, as he got off winging with a 10-4 record through June 23.

Then, his pitching took an inexplicable nosedive, and he had lost four in a row before blanking the Expos for his first victory in seven weeks.

Although he allowed only Rusty Staub's two-out double in the fourth inning and Bob Bailey's leadoff single in the seventh, he was locked in a scoreless duel with Bill Stoneman, who also had permitted only two hits, through the first eight innings.

Then, Stoneman, 12-10, who had been tough in the clutch, stranding nine runners in eight innings, finally cracked in the ninth.

Alan Gallagher's one-out single got the Giants started. Then, Marichal doubled down the third base line and Bobby Bonds walked, before Tito Fuentes broke up the scoreless battle with a single to right.

Marichal walked three and struck out eight in helping the Giants preserve their 4½-game lead over Los Angeles in the NL West.

Pizarro was almost as sharp as Marichal in shacking the Pirates—the best hitting club in the majors. He also walked three and fanned six in hurling his third straight complete game victory and pulling the Cubs to within six games of first-place Pittsburgh in the East Division.

The much-traveled left-hander, now with his eighth major league club, is a quiet individual. He prefers to let his pitching be his talking point.

"Some people think I'm mean because I don't say much," he said. "But I'm not mean."

Only on the mound ... Pizarro has compiled a 4-1 record since the Cubs recalled him July 5 from their Tacoma farm club in the Pacific Coast

US Grabs Its Share of Medals

By JERRY LISK

Associated Press Sports Writer

CALI, Colombia (AP) — The United States again has grabbed a lordly share of medals in the Sixth PanAmerican Games, a tropical mixture of talent and off-the-field tempests which staggers to a virtual close today with a fuse still sizzling on a Cuba-USA incident.

The day before the departure to Cuba of the USA's strong volleyball team for regional Olympic trials, U.S. officials still awaited response from Cuba to a formal apology demand for a Cuban attack on an American athlete.

The demand was made after unidentified Cubans roughed up James Culhane, 28, New Haven, Conn., a gymnast, during one of several melees resulting from attempts to grab some commemorative flags as souvenirs.

Culhane, who took one of the Cali games flags from the Pan-Am Village Court of Flags, suffered eye cuts when his glasses were shattered by angry Cubans thinking it was their flag Culhane had taken.

It took U.S. State Department permission to permit the USA volleyball team's visit to Cuba Friday, which presumably still is on, whether or not an immediate Cuban apology is forthcoming.

With a last minute flow of medals by the men's and women's swimmers who finish up tonight, the USA's medal collection since the Cali carnival began July 31, is 95 golds, 70 silver and 39 bronze for a total of 204.

The USA will finish slightly below its 225 overall medal harvest at Winnipeg in 1967, but with a notable drop from 120 gold medals captured four years ago.

The real surprise has been Cuba, whose Russian technical aid obviously has spread from scientific and industrial fields to the realm of athletics.

Entering the closing hours of competition, the well-trained Cubans have captured 25 gold medals, compared with only eight at Winnipeg, and an overall total of 93 medallions that compares with 48 when they finished a poor third behind host Canada (92).

The Cubans whipped the USA in two sports as American as hot dogs and apple pie, men's basketball and baseball.

Cuba handed the U.S. its only basketball defeat, and it proved enough to end a 20-year Yankee PanAm dynasty.

Tuesday, even as towering Frank Heckl grabbed his fourth gold medal and led a USA sweep of four men's and women's swim events, Cuba made its baseball dethroning of the U.S. official with a 10-4 spanking of Colombia, Cuba finished with a perfect 8-0 record. Defending champion USA settled for the silver second medal with a 6-2 mark by closing a 7-2 winner over Venezuela.

Heckl's fourth gold medal came in the 100-meter butterfly, only USA triumph which failed to set a PanAm record last night.

Pat Miles, unheralded 18-year-old from Little Rock, Ark., lowered Mike Burton's 1,500 meter free style record by 12.2 seconds as he barely edged Tom McBreen, also 18, of San Mateo, Calif., in 16:32.0.

For the USA gal swimmers, Lynn Colella, University of Washington mechanical engineering student, grabbed her second gold with a record 2:23.1 triumph in the 200 butterfly. She had scored a record-breaking triumph in the 200 breaststroke Tuesday night.

The USA's feminine 400 meter free style relay team won with a record 4:04.2, to finally catch Canada at 6-6 in gold medals, exclusive of Canada's two diving titles.

Heckl gets a crack at a fifth gold medal tonight in the men's 100 meter freestyle, along with the men's 1,600 meter freestyle relay and the women's 100 and 800 meter freestyles, the only remaining swim competition.

The USA figures to finish 1-2 in the men's 10-meter platform diving today after Dick Rydz, Pittsburgh, with 303.72 points, and Rick Early, Cincinnati, with 302.85, moved in front after seven dives yesterday.

Six wrestling titles settled, super heavyweight Jeffrey Smith, 230-pound Norwalk, Calif., high school teacher, pinned down the USA's fifth gold medal last night.

Baltimore 4-3 Over Minnesota

By HAL BOCK

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Baltimore Orioles spoiled Harmon Killebrew's little party but the Chicago White Sox couldn't do much to dampen Sam McDowell's celebration.

Killebrew snapped a long dry spell with his 500th career home run and then added another for good measure Tuesday night, but it wasn't enough for Minnesota and the Orioles overtook the Twins 4-3 in 10 innings.

McDowell, absent in a contract dispute since July 31, returned to Cleveland and combined with two relievers for a six-inning, beating the White Sox 4-1.

In other American League action Tuesday, Detroit walloped Milwaukee 12-3, California stopped New York 7-6, Kansas City swept a doubleheader from Washington 9-2 and 3-1, and Oakland took a pair from Boston 6-5 and 7-5.

In the National League, Chicago edged Pittsburgh 2-1, Atlanta shaded St. Louis 2-1, Houston topped Cincinnati 3-2, New York downed San Diego 6-4, Los Angeles defeated Philadelphia 6-1 and San Francisco edged Montreal 1-0.

Killebrew became the 10th man in major league history to reach 500 career homers when he unloaded on Baltimore left-hander Mike Cuellar in the first inning.

He had hit No. 498 on June 22 and No. 499 on July 25. When he got to the Twins' dugout after circling the bases to a tremendous ovation from the Minnesota fans, Manager Bill Rigney kidded him, saying, "don't let it be so long between 500 and 501."

Killebrew didn't. He unloaded on Cuellar again in the sixth inning, tying the score at 3-3. It stayed that way until the 10th when Merv Rettenmund broke the tie with a Baltimore homer—the 33rd of his career—giving the Birds and Cuellar, the victory.

"They don't matter," said

Killebrew of his homers, "if you don't win."

McDowell, making his first start since July 27, remembered to win his game. The tall left-hander hurled six shutout innings before leaving the game and Alan Foster and Phil Hennigan finished up, nailing down Sudden Sam's 11th victory of the season.

McDowell allowed just four hits, struck out seven and walked two as he beat Chicago for the third straight time.

Dick McAuliffe, Norm Cash and Bill Freehan drove in three runs apiece, leading Detroit to its romp over Milwaukee.

McAuliffe contributed a triple and homer and Freehan and Cash also homered as Joe Coleman, 13-6, coasted to his sixth consecutive victory. He surrendered eight hits—four of them by Tommy Harper.

Freehan's homer—his 17th of the season—gave him four in the last two games.

Jim Spencer and Roger Repoz pumped a pair of eighth inning homers, breaking a tie and moving California past the New York Yankees.

Spencer's 14th homer of the season snapped a 4-4 tie and then Repoz tagged his ninth—a two-run shot—that gave the Angels enough cushion to stand off a late Yankee rally.

Gail Hopkins cracked a three-run homer in the first inning—his fifth straight hit in two games—and started Kansas City to its first game romp over Washington.

Al Fitzmorris went five innings and Jim York completed the six-hitter for the Royals.

In the nightcap, Mike Hedlund and Ted Abernathy combined for a four-hitter, completing the sweep. Hedlund earned his ninth victory and Abernathy got his 17th save.

Gene Tenace's two-out single in the ninth inning drove in Oakland's winning run in the first game of the doubleheader at Boston. Tommy Davis and Dick Green smacked homers for the A's.

In the second game, Oakland used home runs by Sal Bando, Reggie Jackson and Dave Duncan to beat the Sox again. Jim "Mudcat" Grant, acquired from Pittsburgh Monday, made his first appearance for the A's and saved the victory for John Odom.

Tarkenton Dispute Is Over Loan

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fran Tarkenton, the star New York Giants' quarterback who left the team over a contract dispute, says all he wants in his contract dispute is what many National Football League teams have given their quarterbacks—a loan.

"This loan thing should be obvious to anybody," he said in Atlanta Tuesday. "You take less salary and more loan, and that package could get you the top dollar." The loan would be a tax advantage and would allow more funds for investment.

Wellington T. Mara, Giants owner, said Monday after Tarkenton left the team that the quarterback had sought a six-figure loan and implied it had something to do with his business ventures.

"This contract has nothing to do with my business ventures," said Tarkenton, whose many business interests have reportedly made him a millionaire.

"When you get in a high tax bracket which I'm in, thankfully you don't need ordinary income," he said. "I was willing to sacrifice ordinary income for the advantages of the loan."

Meanwhile, Giants Coach Alex Webster said he was happy with Tarkenton's replacement Dick Shiner. "I think he can take the Giants to a championship."

The Oakland Raiders and New York Jets will be without the services of their top signal callers when they tangle Saturday in one of the weekend's NFL exhibition contests.

Jets quarterback Joe Namath, injured last Saturday against the Detroit Lions, will be out of uniform at least until mid-November and Raiders quarterback Daryl Lamonica has been sidelined with a twisted knee.

Al Woodall, who replaced Namath for the last nine games of last season after Namath broke his wrist, will have the starting nod for the Jets while Kenny Stabler, who tossed for

Elsewhere in the NFL Tuesday, the Atlanta Falcons' scrimmage had some tense moments when linebacker Tommy Nobis scuffled briefly with rookie receiver Ken Burrow.

Graebner On Top in Tourney

By MIKE HARRIS
Associated Press Sports Writer
INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Clark Graebner, the youthful independent pro tennis player from New York City, is a relaxed and confident man as he faces the challenge of the 1971 National Clay Court Open Championships here.

Graebner easily moved into the second round of play Tuesday at the venerable Woodstock Country Club on this city's north side. The 28-year-old with the dark good looks was totally under control as he bested Jean Chanfreau of France, 6-3, 6-1.

This Graebner is a somewhat different man from the amateur who won the Clay Court title at Milwaukee in 1968.

In 1968, Graebner was a near look-alike to Superman's alter-ego, Clark Kent. He wore his black hair combed back with a nice neat part and he also wore dark-framed glasses. His manner of dress was somewhat subdued and his greatest flair was his temper, which was known to boil over on occasion.

Graebner, seeded third, was one of four men's singles players turning in victories in the $58,000 tournament Tuesday.

Top seed Cliff Richey of Sarasota, Fla., lost his service in his second set with Vicente Zarazula of Mexico, but rallied to take the match, 6-0, 7-5. Sixth seeded Frank Froehling, Miami, Fla., survived the longest and one of the toughest matches of the day, coming from a 3-1 deficit in the final set to beat Joaquin Loyo Mayo of Mexico, 4-6, 7-5, 7-5.

Jaime Fillol of Chile, seeded seventh, bumped Argentina's Lito Alvarez, 7-5, 6-2.

In the biggest men's upset of the day, eight-seeded George Goven of France fell to unseeded Eddie Dibbs, Miami, Fla., 6-3, 6-3. Goven joined fourth seed Tom Gorman, who lost Monday, on the outside, looking in.

Top women's seed Billie Jean King and defending champion and No. 2 seed Linda Tueri swept to easy second round victories. Mrs. King, Long Beach, Calif., stopped Tina Watanabe of Los Angeles, 6-1, 6-2, while Miss Tueri, New Orleans La., beat Janice Metcalf, Claremont, Calif., 6-4, 6-1.

The only big upset on the female side Tuesday saw fifth-seeded Judy Dalton of Australia fall out of the competition when she retired after losing the first set of her match with Laura DuPont of Wilmington, Del., 6-4. No reason for her retirement was given.

Singles will continue today and doubles will begin during the afternoon. The finals of the tournament are scheduled for Sunday afternoon.

Who Will Back Up Ferguson?

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer
FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — John Jenkins, Johnny Mack and Rick Porter aren't exactly household words in Razorback country.

However, one of those three will probably be backing up quarterback Joe Ferguson when Arkansas opens its season Sept. 11 against California at Little Rock.

When spring practice ended, the quarterback situation at Arkansas appeared set. Ferguson, the strong-armed junior from Shreveport, La., would be ably supported by Walter Nelson, a head junior from Little Rock. Then, Nelson injured his ankle playing basketball and had to undergo surgery.

The most optimistic forecast is that Nelson will be back the first of October.

Meanwhile, the Razorbacks have a problem. During the spring, Ferguson quarterbacked one unit, Nelson the other. No one else saw much action at quarterback.

To make matters worse, Jenkins, Mack and Porter are true sophomores. Only Jenkins worked at quarterback during the spring.

Jenkins, a 6-foot-3, 205-pounder from Pampa, Tex., was a wide receiver and defensive halfback on the freshman team. He was shifted to quarterback in the spring.

"He has good potential as an option quarterback and he has a strong passing arm," said Don Breaux, the Razorbacks' offensive backfield coach. "He's the most experienced of the three since he worked primarily against the varsity in the spring."

Jenkins was a three-sport letterman at Pampa. In football, he played all backfield spots, split end and defensive halfback.

Porter, a 6-foot-5, 215-pounder was an all-state selection in football and basketball at North Little Rock. He hurt his knee in the High School All-Star game and has had three knee operations since. Porter, who had 4.7 speed before his injury, didn't play his freshman year or last spring.

Mack played some quarterback on the freshman team and Breaux says he is a "strong runner and improving as a passer." Mack is a 6-foot-1, 190-pounder from Fayetteville.

"We hoped to bring these men along slower, but one of them will have to come to the front in a hurry," Breaux said.

Miller Back on Top Again

By LEE MARGULIES
Associated Press Sports Writer
SAN DIEGO (AP) — Relief pitcher Bob Miller, handed his walking papers by the Chicago Cubs at the beginning of the season, redeemed himself on a last-place club and is now in a position to share in some payoff money at the expense of the Cubs.

Miller, a 32-year-old right-hander in his 15th year of professional baseball, was traded by the cellar-dwelling San Diego Padres to the division-leading Pittsburgh Pirates Tuesday.

The Pirates lead the Cubs by six games in the National League East and are trying to bolster their weakened pitching ranks before the playoffs arrive. They gave the Padres cash and two players who will be named Monday.

"It makes me feel very happy that a club as good as Pittsburgh is interested in me," Miller said after the trade was announced. "After being released by the Cubs earlier this year, it's nice now to be considered an important piece of property."

Miller is pitching as well as he ever has and realizes a pennant contender might be interested in him. After all, he says, that's why the Cubs picked him up from Cleveland last year when he wasn't doing nearly as well.

Miller joined the Padres as a free agent and became their top relief man, running up a 7-3 record with seven saves. In 62 1-3 innings he didn't allow a home run and had an earned run average of 1.41, one of the best in the majors.

Buzzi Bavasi, San Diego General Manager, said he hated to lose Miller but added that Pittsburgh made an "attractive" offer of two players "we've been interested in for quite a while."

Miller said he understands Bavasi's reasoning and is not bitter toward the club. "This is a thing expansion teams have to do," he said.

Swinney Asked to Be Traded

SEARCY, Ark. (AP) — Clovis Swinney, a defensive tackle with the New Orleans Saints, said Tuesday night that he had asked to be traded.

Earlier Tuesday, a spokesman for the Saints said Swinney was still being counted as part of the Saints' 60-man roster. The 6-foot-3, 249-pound Swinney left the Saints' training camp Monday, saying he did not want to play football any longer.

Swinney, a standout while at Arkansas State University, was the Saints' third-round draft choice last year.

Swinney was quoted Tuesday night as saying that he would like to be traded because he thought such a move would be in the best interest of his family. He refused to comment when asked if he had been contacted by any other team.

Despite Swinney's statement, the Saints' spokesman said: "It is not a matter of trading him. He did not want to play for anyone else. He just said he did not want to play. We want him to come back and play and we will make every effort to get him back here."

Trevino in Good Condition

TRUTH OR CONSEQUENCES, N. M. (AP) — Lee Trevino, who keeps the gallery laughing at golf tournaments, has a new audience—the nurses at St. Anne's Hospital.

Trevino, the PGA tour's leading money winner for 1971, underwent surgery for appendicitis early Tuesday and is reported in good condition.

"He keeps us laughing," said the nurse. She noted, however, that he hasn't given any golf lessons to the nursing staff yet. "He's not quite up to that," she said, and noted Trevino was a "wonderful patient."

A hospital spokesman said he was up and walking Tuesday and said there had been "no complications whatsoever."

Trevino, one of the most talkative golfers on the pro circuit, was allowed to talk Tuesday only to family and close friends.

New York Defeats San Diego

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Ken Singleton and Jerry Grote each drove in two runs, Tuesday night and Tug McGraw pitched four effective innings of relief as the New York Mets defeated San Diego 6-4.

The Mets pinned the loss on Clay Kirby, 10-10, after tagging him for the game's first four runs in the fourth inning. Tommie Agee and Ken Boswell singled home the first two runs and Singleton climaxed the rally with a two-run double.

The Padres scored their first three runs off starter Gary Gentry, who turned over a 4-3 lead to Ray Sadecki in the fifth after complaining of a pain in his lower back. Sadecki pitched to the final batter in the fifth before McGraw 8-3, finished up to gain the victory after being greeted by Nate Colbert's 22nd homer in the sixth.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Reaction to 1971's most controversial television program continues with no middle ground: Viewers either love it or hate it. But any resemblance between the character of Archie Bunker of CBS' "All in the Family" and the veteran actor who plays him, Carroll O'Connor, is purely physical.

Archie is the embodiment of all the prejudices that have come to mean bigotry and racism. His appearance in a television series has been hailed on one side as healthy exposure while others suggest that he reinforces the narrow minded.

O'Connor won his bachelor's degree from the National University of Ireland, and his master's from the University of Montana. While his politics are private, his outlook generally is liberal and cosmopolitan.

"I'm not a member of any political party," O'Connor said, almost reluctantly. "I really don't care much for politics, and I just don't know what words like 'conservative' and 'liberal' mean anymore."

"When Roosevelt was president, a lot of people thought that a 'liberal' was pro-labor, pro-welfare and wanted to take care of people and a 'conservative' was pro big business and antiwelfare. Now it is all mixed up."

O'Connor, rehearsing for one of next season's "All in the Family" episodes added:

"I grew up in New York, but I never heard Archie's kind of talk in my own family. Mine was a family of teachers—my mother, an aunt and an uncle. My father was a lawyer and was in partnership with two Jews, who with their families were close to us. There were two black families in our circle of friends. My father disliked talk like Archie's—he called it the hallmark of ignorance."

O'Connor's interest is in building Archie's character—"bigots have dimensions," he said with a grin.

"I've been told that Archie is a sort of hero to racists," he said. "What the hell! Let them have a hero, and if a foolish fellow like Archie is their hero in spite of this changed world, more's the pity."

Constant viewers of the series, including those who deplore Archie's attitudes, find themselves warming to the blustery character. O'Connor seems to be fond of him—and one suspects that although Archie will keep right on making cracks about polacks and hebes he is going to be more lovable and—hopefully—funny when the series starts its first full season next month.

The point is this: He who sows sparingly will also reap sparingly, and he who sows bountifully will also reap bountifully. Each one must do as he has made up his mind, not reluctantly or under compulsion, for God loves a cheerful giver.—II Cor 9:6, 7.

Humility must always be the portion of any man who receives acclaim earned in the blood of his followers and the sacrifices of his friends.—Dwight D. Eisenhower.

There was a short period in contract history when the grand-slam bonus was 1,500 points not vulnerable and 2,250 vulnerable. These enormous bonuses were exciting, but they proved unpopular. At the next change in the laws, it went back to 1,000 and 1,500.

They did have one effect on bidding. Prior to their introduction, the experts didn't bother much with grand slams. But they went to work on them with the super bonuses. The methods they learned then have had a great effect on modern bidding.

Today's hand is taken from the last quarter of the 1937 Spingold finals. Oswald Jacoby's team had a 3,000-point lead when he picked up the South hand.

It didn't take him long to reach seven spades and, when he saw the dummy, two things became apparent. The first was that the same contract would be played at the other table. The second was that, if he went down and the hand made at the other table, the swing against him would be 3,060 points and might cost the championship.

He could discard three of dummy's diamonds on the top clubs, but there was an eventual diamond problem. Of course, when he finally played the second diamond, the queen showed up and it was all over.

Jacoby has refused to say what he would have done if East had played the eight instead of the queen, but Morris Ellis, who sat South at the other table, said, "If the eight had appeared, I was going to toss a coin and see if you could outguess it."

Newspapers At End of Summer Good Selective Worriers Fret Over Trifles

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Thousands of people are reading today's news on yesterday's newspaper because of a use of environmental concern that has led to increasing use of recycled newsprint.

The American Paper Institute estimated that of all the newspapers printed in 1969, 23 per cent were recycled; that is, collected and reprocessed into new paper.

Industry, conservation groups, legislators and others have combined to aid in the recycling drive.

In Madison, Wis., for example, the institute and city officials joined to ask residents to separate newspapers from other refuse. As a result about 40 per cent of the collectable newspapers are being recycled, according to the institute.

Irvine, N.J., legislators passed a law requiring that householders put their newspapers out separately once a month. Charities pick up the paper and sell it to a recycling company.

San Diego, Calif., residents are encouraged to put their newspapers into one of 200 boxes set out by the Kiwanis Club. The city picks up the papers and sells them. The Kiwanis Club gets $5 for every full box and the city salvage operation gets $8.

The institute estimates that groups which collect and sort old paper make about $25 million annually. In addition, taxpayers save $25 in the cost of refuse disposal for every ton of paper that is collected, according to institute figures.

The most important product made from recycled waste paper of all kinds is combination paperboard. The API estimated 70 per cent of recycled paper is used in this form. Next comes newsprint and then a variety of other projects including cartons, posters and book covers.

How much recycled newsprint can be used?

The Garden State Paper Co., the major producer of recycled newsprint, estimated a maximum of 40 per cent.

Richard B. Scudder, chairman of Garden State, said, however, such penetration is impractical from a sales standpoint.

Scudder said close to 200 papers in 27 states use recycled newsprint, including the Chicago Sun-Times, the New York Post, the Los Angeles Times and the Washington Post.

How does recycled newsprint compare with regular newsprint?

Irwin Jaffe, director of the testing laboratory of the American Newspaper Publishers Association Research Institute, said that on the basis of initial tests "basically you could say it's the same quality."

Jaffe said the recycled paper is "pretty much the same color" as regular newsprint. He said there were only very slight differences in other qualities like opacity, strength and texture.

Jaffe added, however, it was still impossible to determine how newsprint recycled more than once would stand up. "We have no knowledge of how many times it can be recycled," he said.

A spokesman for the Richmond Newspapers, publisher of the morning Times Dispatch and evening News Leader, said these papers had been using recycled newsprint since last fall. These newspapers are in the same corporate organization as Garden State.

"We are quite pleased," he said. "The strength is excellent. The opacity is good. The break record is good. It's equivalent to virtually any Canadian paper."

The spokesman said the combined press run of the morning and afternoon papers was 270,000, printed by letterpress.

He said recycled newsprint costs about $7 a ton less than new paper, which now costs $168 a ton delivered in New York and $163 a ton west of the Rocky Mountains.

NEW YORK (AP) — It's worry-pruning time again.

Around the end of summer, a lot of good selective worriers get careless and start fretting over trifles that really aren't worth a gnat's doubt.

What worries should one discard? Well, that depends on a fellow's personal priorities. But here are a few problems we have decided not to wrinkle our brows about now or perhaps forever:

How soon will it cost a buck to get your shoes shined?

Is the moon to become a mere celestial quarry?

Since the rich do not like each other, who would be left to admire them if there were no poor? Is this a good reason not to abolish poverty?

Are long pendant earrings causing American women to develop chronic backaches?

Is more age the only sure cure for our youth problems?

Has the American taxpayer become the last of the big spenders?

Since giving U.S. money to other nations has not rid them of their woes, why not try giving them some free U.S. advice?

Who will be thrown out of the Social Register next—and why?

Would Norman Mailer's writing be more readable if his publishers left out every other word and two out of three of his opinions?

Should American women be intellectually liberated and if so, from what?

If Elizabeth Taylor wears imitation diamonds in public, how much of the rest of her that meets the eye is real?

What do we need a gold standard for when we can't afford to put out a general silver dollar?

Does the Ship of State have enough lifeboats?

What can a man believe if the government officials aren't sure themselves just what they told him?

Will it be possible for the future college graduate to pay off his tuition loans before he gets his pension?

Can the U.S. Department of Agriculture breed a new kind of beef cattle that will make both ends meat?

Is pollution really worthwhile?

Why should the rest of us try to keep up with the Joneses if they're only going to the poor house?

HUNTINGTON, N.Y. (AP) — Police charges that a birth control lecture endangered the welfare of a 14-month-old baby have stirred a controversy on Long Island.

Three plainclothes policemen arrested the lecturer, William R. Baird Jr., and the baby's mother, Nancy Manfredonia, 28, at the lecture Friday night.

The baby was apparently the only minor the police could locate in an audience of 25 or 30 people.

Baird, who operates a birth control clinic, was charged with endangering the baby's welfare by "exposing" her to birth control devices he explained how to use.

His lawyer said it was legal in New York to give birth control information to minors.

Baird has had conflicts with the law in other states where he has lectured, and once served a jail term in Boston.

Mrs. Manfredonia was charged with endangering her baby's welfare by taking her to the lecture.

She said the baby understands only four words—mama, dada, cookie and milk. Nobody touched the baby or paid any special attention to her. She sat in pajamas on her mother's lap during the lecture and made no outcry, her mother said.

Mrs. Manfredonia said she took the baby to the meeting because no sitter was available.

Suffolk County Executive H. Lee Dennison first called the arrests "ridiculous," but after conferring with County Police Commissioner John L. Barry said he was satisfied that the arrests were legitimate.

GSA Autos Almost Free of Pollution

By HARRY EISENBERG
Associated Press Writer
BOSTON (AP) — "You could get your face right next to the exhaust and not see or smell anything," a government inspector said of low-pollution cars being put into use by the General Services Administration.

"These cars are about 95 per cent emission-free," added Robert W. Kelly, an automotive inspector for the GSA.

Eleven of the vehicles—powered by liquid natural gas—were put into service this week by the GSA and long-range plans call for the agency to convert all of its 49,500 vehicles across the country within the next five years. Eighty-nine more are expected to be ready here within a few months.

The fuel system, however, still is—at best—some distance from the public market.

Under the Clean Air Act of 1970, manufacturers are required to produce a virtually pollution-free auto by 1976. But automakers have said it will be impossible to mass produce a substitute for the internal combustion engine in that time.

"Detroit is watching this experiment closely," said Robert L. Kunzig, GSA administrator. "Perhaps Detroit will come up with something similar, or better."

The government cars have their liquid natural gas stored—at 259 degrees below zero—in an insulated 20 gallon tank in the trunk. The gas cost the government about 16 cents a gallon, the same price it pays—tax free—for regular gasoline. The gas is purchased from a local company and stored in a fuel truck at the GSA center.

Mileage is about the same as regular gasoline, but there is no lead in the fuel and less wear on the engine.

Cost of the unit and installation, however, is the problem. The price of the tank, tubing and carburetor adapter is about $750. Installation takes two men a day, adding another $100 to $150.

"It's expensive," said James Mullin, a GSA official. "For the ordinary guy to put one of these in his car, he'd have to be pretty civic-minded."

Kelly doesn't contend the liquid natural gas cars are the solution to the auto emission problem.

"Look," he said, "anything that can get rid of pollution—even a little bit—in cities like this has got to be a good thing."

WASHINGTON (AP) — That exquisitely engraved and much coveted example of 19th century folk art, the American stock certificate, may soon be nudged toward oblivion, partially as the result of enormous thefts.

In official Washington the nudging is coming from such sources as the Securities and Exchange Commission.

But the real impetus lies in more than 2,700 pages of testimony before the Senate permanent investigations subcommittee outlining organized crime's dominance of a racket estimated by the Justice Department to have involved stock losses totaling $900 million in the last 2½ years.

Subcommittee sources say it is unlikely legislation will be introduced to eliminate the stock certificate entirely, at least not now. Advocates of that step foresee a computerized stock market with selling and buying conducted without the actual certificates in a book-entry system.

Although the subcommittee's conclusions have not been written and the hearings are not over, it is reported senators may ask for commissioning of a government study into the pros and cons of a stock market without certificates.

It is likely, however, the subcommittee will recommend creation of a central clearing house which can collect, computerize and immediately distribute data on stolen and missing securities to the nation's banks and brokerage houses.

The Justice Department has such a reporting service for law-enforcement agencies in its National Crime Information Center. But access to it is barred to financial institutions.

The agency reported late last week that $494 million in securities were reported stolen and lost in the first six months of the year.

In the early stages of the hearings, the New York Police Department and representatives of the New York Stock Exchange and brokerage houses complained that court decisions limited the FBI in passing on fingerprint information on prospective employees.

But subcommittee staff members say the government now is involved directly because of a new commitment to guarantee stockbrokers' accounts much as the government has insured bank deposits. "The government has a stake and a right to insist on better security," one contact said.

Thus, legislation may be considered opening FBI fingerprint files to employers in financial institutions, a subject likely to attract much debate because of possible privacy violations involved.

Russia Warns Romania

MOSCOW (AP) — The Russians warned Romania today that neutrality toward Red China cannot be tolerated in a Communist ally of the Soviet Union.

The warning was published by the influential weekly Literaturnaya Gazeta, the Literary Gazette. It frequently is used to give the official line on sensitive matters.

The paper reprinted an article from the Polish Communist party newspaper Trybuna Ludu.

The article was severely critical of Peking for inviting President Nixon while the United States "intensifies its criminal war of aggression in Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos." But it heaped special fire on "the anti-Sovietism and splitting of the Socialist camp which has been raised to the level of official state and party doctrine" in China.

Since it is clear, the paper said, that China considers the Soviet Union to be its "main enemy," efforts by any member of the "Socialist camp" to "indulge" the Chinese can only be considered harmful.

Though Romania was not mentioned by name, it was apparent that it was the target because of its neutral position in the Chinese-Soviet conflict.

Officers Fired for Beating 2 Suspects

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Three Little Rock patrolmen were fired Tuesday after two burglary suspects charged that they were beaten by police when arrested.

Police Chief Gale Weeks said he had investigated the case and fired Patrolman Raymond L. Miller, 26, of North Little Rock; Patrolman Doyle Webb, 30, of Little Rock and Patrolman Ronnie E. Phillips, 24, of Little Rock.

Weeks said in a prepared statement that he had relieved another officer of his duty but refused to identify the man.

Weeks said the investigation of the incident was continuing.

"These men have a right of appeal to the Little Rock Civil Service Commission and pending final dispensation I do not feel that additional statements from this office would be proper," Weeks said.

The charges of police brutality were filed Tuesday by an attorney for Bobby Joe Harrington, 27, and James M. Sipes, 31, both of North Little Rock.

Officers said Harrington and Sipes were arrested early Monday on the roof of the Steak & Ale Restaurant after police were told that a burglary was in progress at the restaurant.

Harrington and Sipes were charged with burglary and possession of burglary tools. Earlier Tuesday, the two pleaded in municipal court here to charges of resisting arrest and assaulting a policeman.

Pros. Atty. Jim Guy Tucker said Tuesday night that he planned to ask that the charges of resisting arrest and assaulting an officer be dropped against the two men. He said that based on the information he had received, he knew of no evidence to support the charges.

Mosquitos Could Be Wiped Out

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A mosquito control expert says mosquitoes could be eradicated completely with "public support and the funding."

Dr. Max Meisch, an entomologist with the University of Arkansas Agricultural Extension Service, made the statement Tuesday. Meisch said complete eradication could happen in the "next few years" but declined to predict the earliest possible date.

Meisch said in an interview that the most effect method of killing mosquitoes would be an organized program to kill mosquito larvae at the source.

"A number of areas in the state have mosquito control programs now," he said, "but they give little regard to the source and offer only short-range eradication." He said most of the programs consist of aerial spraying.
